After a 27-year career with Texas Instruments, her final career was managing the family ranch in Howard County. Growing up in rural west Texas, Annette saw the need to be a contributor to her community. She was a lifelong volunteer for the Red Cross, a member of the First Baptist Church. She was active as a member of the Big Spring Symphony Guild and served on several committees. Bill Piehl Leadership Memorial

The Piehls have a long tradition of giving back to the 4-H organization. Bill Piehl, a leader in business and philanthropy, credited 4-H and education for the beginning of his success. As a boy growing up on a farm, Bill was active in 4-H. He was the first member from a Moore County club to ever attend a National 4-H Congress. Money earned from sales of his championship livestock launched his collegiate career. Bill and his wife Helen were both 4-H members in their youth and continued their support with scholarships, involvement with local 4-H groups, as well as serving on the 4-H Foundation Board of Trustees. The Piehl Family realizes the importance of giving back to the 4-H organization that has meant so much in their own successes.

Bob Benson Memorial

The Bob Benson Memorial Scholarship was established to honor a man who had a passion for showing livestock, working with kids, being a County Extension Agent, and last, but certainly not least, playing golf. Proceeds, from the annual Bob Benson Memorial 4-H Golf Tournament, make this scholarship possible. Bob believed in what he did and he believed in young people. It seems only natural that we recognize one of our outstanding 4-H youth today with a scholarship in his honor.

Doyle Warren was a loving husband and father of four children. As a County Extension Agent for 18 years in Lynn, Dawson, Lubbock Floyd, & Hidalgo Counties, and the District Extension Director in District 12 for 15 years, he worked closely with the 4-H program and had a great love for the youth work involved in his job. He felt so strongly about the benefits of the 4-H program that all four of his children were active 4-H members and three were recipients of scholarships through the 4-H Foundation. Mr. Warren's family felt he would want to benefit the youth development program he felt so strongly about. Through donations and additional funds from the family, it was possible to set up this scholarship in his honor. His entire family would like to thank you for this opportunity to honor Mr. Warren and his life and dedication to his job and the youth of Texas.

Elinor Harvey Memorial

Elinor Harvey was a County Extension Agent for 29.5 years before her retirement in 1986. She began her career in Mitchell County in 1957-59 and later transferred to Gaines County where she served the residents from 1959-1986. Elinor trained 9 assistant home economic agents, more than any trainer agent in Texas. The assistant's primary responsibility was training and programming for 4-H adult leaders and 4-H members for 2 years before moving on to other Counties. At one time, all 9 assistant agents continued to be employed by the Texas Extension Service. Elinor had a tremendous influence on everyone she taught, both youth and adults, in the county as well as her co-workers. She served with her head, heart, hands, and health for the better lives of others. She made the Best Better. If Elinor didn't know how to do something, she taught herself and then taught others; including training the 4-H horse judging team that won state. She didn't know the first thing about the horse program, but the 4-Hers needed a horse leader, she got a book and the rest is history. Elinor loved seeing the growth of 4-H members and witnessing other's accomplishments. She didn't have boundaries of who she might serve or influence. She was respected by the agricultural agents in the county too, as well as others across the state. Elinor trained agents in Gaines county who went on to become a 4-H specialist, District Directors, statewide Specialist and the Texas Extension Director.

Hiram Blaine McGee Memorial

The son of Dr. Bonnie Daugherty McGee, Hiram Blaine grew up surrounded by Cooperative Extension influences and sporting t-shirts from all over the country purchased from his mother's Extension business travels. After college Hiram became a resident of Boston, a city he loved, yet he felt just as much at home in the rural community of 2,000 where his mother's family resided or in College Station where he graduated high school. In many ways, Hiram's life is a reflection of the evolving nature of 4-H: a mixture of urban and rural, of intellect and respect, and of a person who enjoyed hard work and work done well. Dr. Bonnie McGee, Associate Director of 4-H Youth Development and Human Sciences Emeritus, retired from Texas A&M AgriLife Extension in 2011 after 40 years with the Extension System. Her career spans decades and geography. She began as a 4-H agent in Alabama; a state specialist in Colorado; and then as an administrator in New Hampshire and Texas. Given in her son's memory, the first year of the scholarship is funded through the generous donations of her family, friends and former colleagues.

Jason Spence Memorial Scholarship

Jason grew up in the “806” towns of Slaton and Tahoka, Texas. Early in his life, he excelled academically and vocationally with horses, pigs, sheep, and chickens in 4-H, FFA and in equine and rodeo associations, winning numerous show and national championships and serving as a state 4-H officer including representing Texas in Washington, D.C.

A dedicated alumnus of Texas Tech University, Jason was forever recruiting with “Guns Up” and relentlessly imploring all he interacted with to attend, or in the case of parents, to send their children to Texas Tech.

Jason was best known for auctioning show and purebred livestock. Jason’s investment in relationships and pride in and dedication to helping customers and kids achieve optimal return for their consignments with integrity provided him personal fulfillment. He gave generously in his numerous communities in many, many ways and this scholarship is a continuation of his generosity and memory.

They turned this into an opportunity to become responsible breeders who proved themselves over the years to be believers in positive youth development within Texas and formed alliances to support these young people in their attempt to gain a quality education. He would be so proud to know this scholarship is possible because of his efforts. Steve Jones was a longtime supporter of many 4-H educational programs in Lubbock County. His passion was swine where he assisted his two sons, Chad and Casey, from 3rd grade until graduation to breed, raise, and exhibit show swine. Over time the operation grew into a large scale farrow to finish swine operation. With Chad, Casey, and his partner, Stanley Young, they formed Jones & Young Livestock. For many years they were influential in 4-H and FFA members' young lives all across Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Wyoming. Steve's life was cut short due to a farming accident in 2012 at the age of 59. Everyone who knew him knew of his "love of the land" and his laugh. This quote from his headstone sums up Steve's life, "Take time to laugh-it was the music of his soul". This scholarship is lovingly given in his memory by his many friends and family.

Texas Grain & Feed Association was founded in 1898 when there were few state or federal government regulations or agencies affecting the grain and feed trade. When members of the association bought or sold grain and feed ingredients, it was often in very large quantities and confirmed with an oral agreement. Simple terminology such as freight rates and storage costs varied widely, making buying and selling difficult and inefficient. TGFA began with the mission to create order, trust, credibility and integrity and 121 years later they continue to adapt to industry changes and unite its members to create a better industry. Texas Grain & Feed Association is made of member firms that represent virtually every facet of the grain and feed industry. From country elevators and retail feed stores to the export elevator and large integrated and commercial feed manufacturers, TGFA members are an integral part of the agriculture industry in Texas. The diverse membership strengthens their voice, which is represented in nearly every legislative district in Texas. TGFA provides an environment that promotes both social and professional interaction and fellowship, resulting in lifetime memberships and life long bonds.

Leadership abilities surfaced again as Will was chosen Freshman of the Year for the College of Agriculture. At the time of Will's fatal car accident, at age 28, he was working on his MBA at McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas in Austin.
